Manage Participants within Certification

Overview

This scenario applies when participants who are not part of a job application need to be assigned to certification programs. For this to work effectively, recruiters must be able to view a participant's track record on earlier jobs.

For example, if Resource A has successfully completed several translation projects, a recruiter may consider them a suitable candidate for a new, similar assignment. However, before Resource A can participate, they must complete a job-specific certification.

OneForma now supports Recruitment Managers to assign participants—regardless of resource type (crowd, professional, agency, or employee)—to the available online certifications, enabling them to become eligible for the job.

This guide explains how to navigate the Certification Management section, add or remove participants to a given certification through the platform.

Manage Participants within Certification

The Certification Table shows details of all available certifications hosted on OneForma. It includes three lists:

- All - Certifications that are in active, draft, and disabled mode.
- Active - Active certifications that are currently available for use.
- Closed - Certifications that are disabled.
